The Mistery of the Lost Article

Sherlock Holmes   John H. Watson*

Abstract

It's elementary.

1 Introduction

We invite all participants to submit an extended abstract for the proceedings that will be published by Matemática Contemporânea. The extended abstract must have at most six pages, the acceptance is subject to peer review, and the deadline for its submission is March 15th, 2015.

Please prepare your extended abstract using the enclosed template that contains this text (`lawcliques-extendedabst.tex`).

Please follow the guidelines of Matemática Contemporânea (check the site `http://mc.sbm.org.br`). In particular, the editors encourage submission of manuscripts in LaTeX. Figures and Tables appearing in the paper should be numbered and referred to by their numbers. The list of references [1] must be in alphabetical order; abbreviations of names of journals and references to books should follow the standard form established by Mathematical Reviews.

Please send by email to `submissionslawcg14@inf.ufg.br` a pdf file with your extended abstract until March 15, 2015.

2 Conclusion

Please check the webpage: `http://www.inf.ufg.br/lawcg14`.

References

[1] A. Conan Doyle, The Sign of the Four, 1890.

221B Baker Street
London
holmes@london.org